

2009 Event Report

2009 Poet In Motion

Alan Fry and Alan Hills campaign a beautiful blue convertible Bentley Corniche on the MSA Euroclassics. Not only is their car 'poetry in motion' but on the 2005 MSA Euroclassic, Alan Hills showed his talent as a 'poet in motion'. This has now become a regular feature of the event and this year his ode was performed at the last night gala dinner by Ian Coomber, with the able assistance of the entire audience.

A French Classic Detour

To Plymouth and Drake's famous Hoe
One hundred classic cars did go
Across the Biscay Bay they went
A carefree drive was their intent
As they approached the Spanish shore
They wondered who could ask for more

The road reached levels of magic heights
The Pyrenees were in their sights
They passed through rocks and trees and valleys
We do enjoy these lovely rallies

Thanks to the clout of the MSA
The route was opened for our stay
The workers stopped as we passed through Another 1st for you know who

All cars gathered for Formula Three
A parade was arranged for Alan and me
And as we went around the track
Remember - classic cars do not look back

Like Dinky Toys we went round and round
The joy they bring - well just their sound
Drivers ladies, drivers men
All were at it, once again
In France they say 'ooh la la'
But back at home it's classic car

The windmills stand up on the hill
Turning round at nature's will
They give us something to remember
As Summer turns into September

Bordeaux with its city square
Classic cars are everywhere
Then cognac laid it on in style
It really was a trip worthwhile

On to Versailles for our final run
2009 has been great fun

THE MSA EUROCLASSIC

Our thanks for all who made our trip
Once started there's no stopping it

Always, always, motor cars
There's a nice one - must be one of ours
Thanks to Norman and his team
He works his magic like a dream
The route was fine, so thank you Peter and MSA
We're very pleased we came this way
